Dear Parent/Guardian,

Re: Family Education & Training Series

The Family Education & Training Series (FET) 2020 is for families of children with developmental disabilities. These programs are provided through funding of the Home and Community Based Waiver schedule.

As defined by the Office for People with Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD), Family Education & Training may be provided to families of individuals up to 18 years old who are enrolled in the Home and Community Based Waiver Program. The purpose of FET is to enhance the decision-making capacity of the family unit, provide orientation regarding the nature and impact of developmental disabilities upon the individual and their family, and inform them about service alternatives. Additionally, FET will assist the family unit in understanding and nurturing their child with a developmental disability.

For families who are enrolled in the Home and Community Based Waiver and who have FET listed as a service, FET is funded through OPWDD and will provide up to 2 sessions per year. Each family is expected to attend at least one session per calendar year to remain enrolled in the Home and Community Based Waiver. If this is the only Waiver service received, it is imperative that you attend at least one session per year in order to maintain Medicaid funding. These classes must be chosen from the enclosed list. People Inc. cannot give credit for classes taken through other agencies.

Wondering how to register? Fill out the form attached at the end of the packet and mail it in FET, 3332 Walden Ave. Suite 100, Depew, NY 14043 or by email at FET@people-inc.org. If you need more information, contact your Care Coordinator or FET by phone at (716) 880-3867 or by email at FET@people-inc.org

Sincerely,

Lori Prelewicz

Self-Care for the Caregiver

Presented by Megan Logan
Senior Employment Supervisor

Caregiving can be physically, emotionally and spiritually exhausting. Whether you are in the profession of caregiving or taking care of a loved one, it is important to remember to practice self-care. For family members, caregiving can carry other stressors such as: financial strain, family conflict, and social withdrawal. Over time, caregiver stress can lead to burnout. Burnout can be manifested as irritability, fatigue, problems with sleep, weight gain, feelings of helplessness or hopelessness, and social isolation. This training is offered to parents and caregivers to develop healthy coping skills and an active self-care plan.

Building Self-Esteem in My Child

Presented by Emily Sheehan
Behavior Intervention Specialist and Licensed Mental Health Counselor

The way we feel about ourselves has a huge impact on how we think and act. Building someone's confidence and self-esteem can provide them with positive reinforcement that may last a lifetime! In this class concepts of self-esteem and confidence will be further explored. Additional topics and handouts will be provided covering concepts of irrational and misleading thoughts, conversation and social skills, giving and receiving respect and gaining attention in positive ways. Participants will leave with an increased knowledge on these topics as well as a "workbook" of information to take home to their child so they can begin building and improving their own self-esteem!

This class is offered by appointment only

FET Location: TBD

Educational Advocacy

Presented by Elizabeth Assad-Penner
Educational Advocates

The Educational Advocate will define the role & process of the Committee for Special Education (CSE), implementation of Individual Education Plans (IEP), assessments, and the parent's role as an advocate. Special concerns may also be addressed.

A Guided Process to Toileting Training

Presented by Ashley Washington
Behavior Intervention Specialist

In an effort to help parents with what can be seen as an overwhelming challenge, we have created a guided process to toileting training. We begin the process by observing the child and having the families complete a toileting questionnaire on the child's present level of toileting independence. Preparation of toilet training is a major key to success. Before toilet training begins, we will create together a charting system for the child's current toileting schedule and fluid intake. Families will then be provided with a personalized toileting guide that will walk them through the toileting process for their child.

Overview of Dietary Choices

Presented by Melissa Pukalo
Dietetic Technician

The objective of this training is to create an informed approach to creatively feeding your child with a developmental disability. All parents, not just those of children with special needs, can be familiar with the stress and confusion associated with nourishing their child. Due to the strain this situation can create, parents are often tempted to give in to the demands of their child and poor eating habits are established. These issues may be further exacerbated when a child has difficulties with sensory processing, tactile defensiveness, allergies, intolerances, and other dietary restrictions. This training will prepare you with a baseline of knowledge to navigate all of your options, some creative approaches to trying new things, and recipes that you may like to try with your own child.

Operation EDITH

Presented by Thomas Ess
AVP/Emergency Preparedness Coordinator

“EDITH” stands for “Exit Drills In The Home.” A majority of the nearly 4,000 fire-related deaths that occur every year happen in the home during normal sleeping hours. A planned and practiced EXIT PLAN can reduce this number. Residential smoke detectors and the planning and practice of exit drills in the home have helped to reduce the number of lives lost to fire in recent years.
